

WHO WE ARE

Simply put, Bookazine is a global distributor of books ... but we are so much more than just that.

Capitalizing on emerging retail opportunities and providing superior services have been our hallmark throughout our 92 year history. Today we are a vital link in the supply chain for books, providing logistical, end-to-end support for physical and online retailers both domestic and internationally, and for emerging channels such as direct to consumer fulfillment. Every Bookazine customer, regardless of size, receives highly-personalized account support, same-day shipping, real-time data access to titles, and more. Blending experience with innovation, we have established ourselves as a reliable and innovative supply chain partner for booksellers globally.

Dependable | Consistent | Efficient | Versatile

WHAT TO EXPECT

You're more than just a customer, you're our partner. Bookazine offers one-of-a-kind, personalized service with a designated account manager who builds a two-way working relationship with you, and who understands your company. Because we are independently-owned, we have the ability to act and implement new processes to meet your personalized needs. We pride ourselves on delivering consistent and reliable service while continuously improving our inventory to meet the latest industry demands.
